EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

In May 2011 the Division for Libraries, Technology, and Community Learning (DLTCL) sponsored a statewide E-book Summit. A major recommendation from the Summit was the need to establish a statewide digital content buying pool. In a follow-up action, a committee from the Summit and the Wisconsin Public Library Consortium (WPLC) set a target goal of allocating $1 million for e-books and audio book purchases. That goal has since been met. Starting in 2012, DLTCL is committing $300,000 in grant funds for e-books with $700,000 being committed by the state's 17 public library systems and their member libraries. Each library system amount is based on a formula of current OverDrive e-book use and system population. Persons with compatible electronic devices anywhere in the state can now access nearly 5,000 titles from any of Wisconsin's 385 public libraries. This collection will grow considerably as new titles are added throughout the coming year.
